Comments about Lanterns - Deepchord

• Ygglune

High above the ground of earth in the space above the clouds where little changing winds play their game - there is a moment like and in a dream, streaming ambient dub waves from a place many many miles away...deeeeep !sound and design: impressive. The colored vinyls are spinning diamonds.

• Araath

Fortunately found a decent MP3 rip on a blog but would prefer a physical copy. Did some background reading and the decision not to repress is apparently more Rod's than the labels. They could shift another 500 or 1000 copies of this easily but Rod doesn't want it repressed. Seems a bit strange but i love the guys music so will accept a bit of artistic perversity I guess!

• Realistic

It 100% is his decision. AI have said that publicly before.

• Nilasida

Astral Industries is not run by Rod, and doubt that would be his decision

• Snowskin

Great album however I am sad that good music can become so quickly inaccessible to others.

• Ferne

It did feel like it was available one minute then gone the next. I was just thinking about buying it from juno (which is where I get most of my music) then it was no longer for sale and on here priced at silly money. So I agree with the OP

• Enila

I agree with you, that release was overpriced. Can't understand the no repress / no digital bullshit, i'm ok with limited pressings but once sold out than they can release MP3. (even if they release both mp3 & vinyl at the same time i'm sure the vinyl will be sold out quickly)

• Ann

Its was available for less for a while; released 2 years ago now, so wasn't super quick to be inaccessible. I guess that's perspective, and how fast one finds fresh material. But I agree they should release it on CD so anyone can have it. I mean CD's don't = Repress since its a different format? haha Initially it was $50 usd + shipping to states, which is pretty expensive to start.so not surprising that its double. unfortunately Would like to stop playing the records as often and get a CD or black version. all though they are some of the best presses i have and seem to not be prone to clicks and pops

- MEGA FREEDY

This needs a cd release at more reasonable price. I love coloured vinyl and deluxe artwork but the prices even when newly released were way out of the ballpark. Off to find an MP3 to listen to in the meantime....

- inetserfer

you can convert youtube video into mp3, it's free :)

- ME

amazing release! very fresh and you can clearly hear his evolution. Rod did it again. But prices are ridiculous here! I'd pay happily if the money would go to rod.

- Timberahue

I purchased mine new, and may get a second to hold on to. Which I never do. This record is simply that good, I play it often and advise to pull the trigger before its at prices that are 3x and 4x the cost (I.e. $200) It was initially $50 us plus shipping, but an incredible package and the pressing quality is top notch in terms of sound.

- Risky Strong Dromedary

Stand out release from Deepchord here. Not re-releasing old music or sounds paying tribute to the past... Fresh, fat, timeless music form the unknown..

- Vudomuro

Amazing release, one of the best from DeepChord I think

- Rit

Lush, deep, get lost in the mix kind of tracks. I haven't heard such loopy-without-sounding-loopy material from Rod Modell since his CV - "Movement" release on Octal. This is, of course, much more chill than that... nice long track durations, some aquatic vibe moments, reminding me a bit of classic Hallucinator on Chain Reaction. Highly recommend. Artwork & packaging is breathtaking.

- Vichredag

of the very best music I've heard this year, and I doubt red lantern part 3 will be topped by anything.

- Manarius

Absolutely brilliant, deep spaced out grooves from Mr Modell.This has the same feel that Hash Bar Loops has, very washed out percussion and woozy hypnotic, tripped out atmospheres.The sound quality of this coloured vinyl is absolutely unbelievable, second to none!Superb album 5/5

- Goltizuru

Definitely the best dub techno release of this year. Most colored vinyl sounds poor, but this one sounds perfect! Very special release in every way.

- Mr.Savik

One of the best DeepChord releases I've heard, can't recommend this one enough! If you loved "Hash Bar Loops" as much as I did this one is an absolute must!

- Rigiot

Brilliant! Juno STILL has a few copies for £34.95 so get in QUICK!!!!

- Tisicai

actually there is around 200 copies wwd. brilliant deep dub techno

- Bukus

he's right, only half were made available to shop, more are coming

- Slowly writer

Not according to the label. Label states 500 copies, check their facebook page.

- Ka

I wasn't certain about the artwork, since it's a real obvious departure from Rod's usual design aesthetic, but once I could hold it in my hands and look at all of it, I realized it's remarkable. Very unique, detailed and sure to be interesting imagery to get lost in with the wax on a platter and a wine glass in my hand...

- Gom

My favorite purchase this year, an absolute must for lovers of DeepChord/Echospace, over 60 minutes of audio bliss in superb packaging, the brilliant Rod Modell strikes again!

- Hugighma

Probably one of the best dub techno records this year. Great artwork too. Must have!
